Large pad of drawing and/or watercolor paper (at least 18” x 24”)
Glue stick

Laptop computer
   (This is optional but if you enjoy designing on the computer or would like some experience doing so, this could be an important addition to your toolbox.)
   You may use an IPAD instead but you need to know how to use it to access apps, create images and then download or transfer to a printer, which we will provide.

Ephemera Box: Begin to acquire bits and pieces of things that interest you now. This is probably something you already do! In any case, establish a box where stones, feathers, papers, and other various odds and ends that appeal to you can be stored. Plan to bring it along.

Sewing Machines:
Students always inquire about the use of sewing machines, hand stitching, daily photographs and the like. I welcome ANY and ALL approaches and materials to this week. It will only be as successful as the materials you are called to use, so listen quietly to your own impulse. If you would like to
• Stitch. Bring the materials you would use at home to stitch, whether by machine or by hand.

• Quilt. You may not be ready to quilt by the end of the week, but if assembling small parts is your heart’s delight, bring what you need to pursue it.

• Photograph. Bring your camera, phone or other method of recording the world around you. And any program or app that assists.

• Draw. Bring the tools you need to make it happen.

• Paint. Bring what you need. Maybe an easel? Maybe. What are your go to tools when you want to give yourself a voice through painting?

If I haven’t mentioned a field of expression here, it’s only because I didn’t think of it. This workshop is not about technique so you should feel very free to bring whatever your visual voice longs to do. This workshop is about exploring that distinctive voice through personally selected tools and materials. Questions? Please write to me!
